31 MINERS DIE IN BURNING PIT

OKLAHOMA COAL MINE SCENE OF HORROR.

WORKERS TRAPPED BY FLAMES

RETREAT CUT OFF AND MEN SUFFOCATE.

BARREL OF OIL STARTS FIRE

Flames and Smoke From Shaft Give First Warning of Disaster and Crowds Stand Helpless While Victims Meet Death in Inferno.

M'ALESTER, Okla., Aug. 26.—More than thirty miners were suffocated in the Hailey-Ola coal mine No. 1 at Haileyville, 14 miles east of McAlester, this morning, when fire destroyed the hoisting shaft and air shaft and cut off air from the men below. Twenty-five dead bodies were brought out tonight, following a successful three hours' battle with the flames. It is believed that six or eight more will be found. Twenty-five mules were suffocated and some of their bodies were burned.

Explorations in the channels this afternoon revealed the fact that none of the men met death by burning, but that all of them were suffocated. It is impossible yet for the rescuers to get far from the base of the mine shaft, and it probably will be 24 hours before a thorough search of the entire mine can be made. Some of the channels are three-quarters of a mile long.

Oil Starts Fire.

After the entombed miners had gone down on the cage a fire broke out, occasioned by the ignition of a barrel of oil which a miner was trying to divide. The flames spread at once to the hoisting shaft and the air shaft, and all communication with the top was at once cut off. The first intimation the people on top of the ground had of the trouble were the flames and smoke coming out of the top of the shaft.

Hundreds of miners rushed to the scene and tried to get into the air shaft, but this was impossible, as the flames and smoke were coming up that way with such force as to drive them back. Then an effort was made to operate the cages running up and down the hoisting shaft, but it was found that the cages, the cables and the guides had been burned. There was absolutely no help for the imprisoned miners.

The Hailey-Ola is owned by Dr. D. M. Hailey, James Elliott and a number of Chicago and St. Louis capitalists, among whom are several directors of the Rock Island-Frisco road. The property loss cannot be estimated at present, but may reach $50,000. The mine is one of the most valuable in the southwest.

List of Known Dead.

Following is a list of the known dead: Ross Milton, Andrew Dunliken, Dominic Mariano, Steven Zelovich, George Smith, R. H. Webster, Nicholas Vicovich, W. H. Harker, Roy Pierce, Dan Elacoma, Joe Elacoma, Frank Elacoma, Nick Elacoma, Ed. Harvey, Tom Raimon, George Glendenning, Al Davis, Walter Jones, Alex Ross and at least 12 more, names unknown.

KNIGHTS TEMPLAR ELECT OFFICERS

J. H. GUILFORD, TRINIDAD, IS CHOSEN COMMANDER.

PUEBLO, Aug. 26.—The thirty-third annual conclave of the Knights Templar convened here today for a two days' session. There are about 1,200 delegates in attendance and Pueblo is in gala attire for the occasion.

The conclave opened at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon and the following officers were elected:

Grand commander, John H. Guilford, Trinidad; deputy grand commander, M. H. Dean, Glenwood Springs; generalissimo, George Vallery, Denver; captain general, Frank P. Tanner, Ouray; senior warden, C. J. Hart, Pueblo; junior warden, J. W. Dill, Pueblo; grand prelate, F. L. Bishop, Denver; grand treasurer, Charles H. Jacobson, Denver; grand recorder, W. D. Pierce, Denver. All other officers are appointive and will be made tomorrow.

All the officers were shown about the city today and a reception was given tonight at the Mineral Palace in honor of Past Eminent Commander J. C. Sanford of Trinidad.

A feature of tonight's program was an exhibition drill by the champion drill corps of Denver commandery No. 1. The Knights Templar parade will be held at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

It was decided to hold the next annual conclave at Boulder, Colo.

DEMOCRATS ARE SPLIT IN TWAIN

MUSSER AND LEDDY FACTIONS AT SWORDS' POINTS.

CAUCUSES PRECIPITATE ROW

BOTH SIDES CLAIM THEY WILL CONTROL CONVENTION.

YETERDAY'S RESULT IN DOUBT

Contest Filed in Ward 1, Precinct 2, Where Returns Show Starrett and Burns Were Elected—Twenty-four Out of Thirty-three Precincts Heard From.

Although both sides claim the victory, the Musser adherents appear to have won out in the Democratic caucuses last evening, judging from returns from 24 out of 33 precincts in Colorado Springs and Colorado City. The Musser faction claims to have defeated the opposing element by two to one, but the Leddy people, although admitting that the contest was close, say they will control the convention.

Only one contest was filed at Democratic headquarters up to 11 o'clock last night, the time limit set for contesting tickets. This was in Ward 1, precinct 2. Clyde L. Starrett and James F. Burns, both Leddy men, were elected delegates from that precinct, according to the caucus returns of the precinct committeeman, but 19 voters in the precinct submitted the names of C. L. McKesson and William Garstin, Musser adherents, and the opposing tickets will be voted on at the Democratic primaries tomorrow evening.

Chairman Was Absent.

Chairman W. C. Jones, Carl Albin, Starrett and many other well-known Democrats are strong Leddy men, it is said. When the contesting ticket from the precinct was filed with H. I. Gregg, in charge of Democratic headquarters, three minutes before 11 o'clock last evening, Albin claimed that the filing was illegal on the ground that the call said that contesting tickets should be filed with the chairman of the county central committee at headquarters. It was pointed out that Chairman Jones was not at headquarters all evening, and that Gregg, in charge of headquarters, could legally be regarded as the chairman's deputy.

"No matter," said Albin, "the call says contests must be filed with the chairman, contestants are supposed to find him."

Gregg accepted the contesting ticket, however. That Albin's contention is wrong may be seen from the fact that the call says: "All tickets named in the caucuses above provided for, as well as contesting tickets, must be filed with me as chairman of the Democratic county central committee at room 42, Postoffice building, city of Colorado Springs, on or before 11 o'clock," etc. In other words, the filing of the regular caucus tickets and

HITCHCOCK SILENT ON HUGHES FIGHT

WILL NOT COMMIT HIMSELF EITHER WAY.

Repeats Sherman's Statement That the Oyster Bay Conference Determined Nothing.

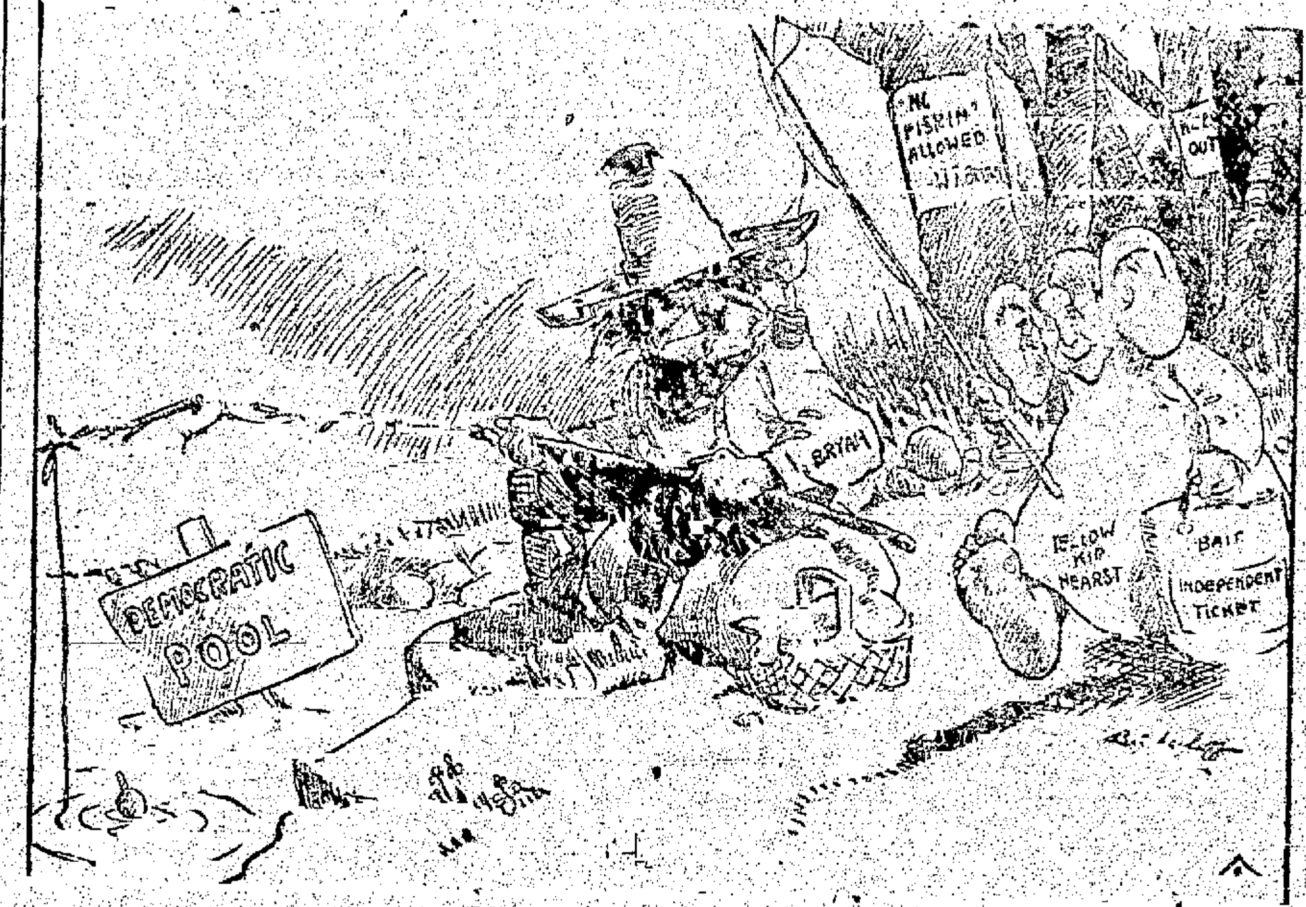

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—Chairman Frank H. Hitchcock of the Republican national committee today declined to discuss the New York state primaries with respect to any possible effect they might have upon the governorship nomination, and later, upon the national ticket in New York state. He insisted that he had not committed himself in any manner on the governorship, and said that he did not think he was called upon to do so.

In regard to the recent conference at Oyster Bay, which gathering was followed by a statement from James S. Sherman, the Republican candidate for vice president, that the preponderance of opinion there was favorable to Mr. Hughes, Mr. Hitchcock said:

"Mr. Sherman stated explicitly that no determination of the governorship matter was effected."

It is not expected that the views of any of the Republican leaders who participated in the discussion at the President's summer home will be altered by the fact that a number of counties in the primaries expressed themselves in opposition to the governor.

Thus far the Republican national committee has taken no stand in the Hughes matter. The governor has not been invited to speak in the national campaign, and it is said that no invitation will be extended to him until after the New York state convention. The engagement which Governor Hughes has to speak at Youngstown, O., September 5, was not made under the auspices of the national organization. If Mr. Hughes is renominated, the directors of the speakers' bureau of the national committee will begin immediately booking the governor for as many speeches as he will consent to make.

Adopt Resolutions Explaining Their Attitude in Coming Campaign. Taft and Sherman Indorsed.

At the meeting of the Veterans' Association of El Paso county in the court house last night, officers were elected for the ensuing two years and resolutions on the attitude of the association in the coming political campaign were passed. The following officers were chosen: L. Hiner, chairman, re-elected; H. A. Wattson, vice chairman; I. H. Burt, secretary; B. F. [illegible]win, treasurer; Capt. W. H. Rogers [illegible] Manitou, B. F. Irvin, Dr. Keys of [illegible]ntain, I. H. Burt, Judge Robert [illegible], Dr. W. D. Marlow, Mrs. F. M. [illegible], Mrs. Ormsby and H. A. Wattson, executive committee.

Political Resolutions.

After considerable discussion the following resolutions were passed:

The Veterans' association of El Paso county, in regular session assembled, do hereby resolve that

"First. We heartily approve the national ticket of the Republican party for president and vice president and pledge our hearty support.

"Second. We commend the work of our congressman-at-large, George W. Cook, and pledge ourselves to work for his renomination and re-election.

"Third. We recommend for nomination for governor of the state of Colorado the Hon. Jesse F. McDonald.

"Fourth. Insofar as the senatorial, legislative and judicial ticket is concerned, we hold ourselves entirely independent in order that we may be in a position to support those whom we consider most worthy of support.

"Fifth. We hereby heartily approve of the services of Robert Kerr as county judge and pledge him our hearty support and ask for his renomination for the position he now holds.

"Sixth. We also commend and indorse the nomination of Justice Orville R. Dunnington to succeed himself.

"Seventh. Realizing the competency of Mrs. F. M. Stote as county superintendent of schools, we are a unit for her renomination and re-election."

The veterans decided to take an active part in the political campaign this year for the first time in the history of the organization. Letters will probably be sent out to all the veterans in the county, and possibly to all in the state, informing them of the stand taken by the organization.

Another meeting will be held next Wednesday to make further plans.

LABOR DAY PARADE ARRANGED

Final Plans Completed at Drawing for Positions Last Night—Big Crowd Expected.

Final arrangements for the Labor day parade were completed with the drawings for position at the meeting of the Labor day committee last night. The parade will begin at 11 o'clock in the morning. At the head of the line will be the police department, the Midland band and the city officials. Following will be the officers of the Federated Trades council in carriages.

Then will come the merchants association and other city organizations. Next will be the locals from Denver, Pueblo and the unions of Colorado Springs and Colorado City followed by the various floats. The fire department will close the procession.

From present indications [illegible] people from all parts of Colorado will come to the city on Labor day to take part in the celebration, which will be the only one in the state.

EATEN WHILE ALIVE BY RATS AND ANTS

SICK MAN FAINTS UNDER TREE WHERE VERMIN SWARM.

Passersby Pay Little Attention and for Two Days Victim Is Slowly Gnawed to Death.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Aug. 26.—After lying helpless under a tree near the Ostrich farm, east of the city, from Sunday afternoon until Tuesday night, his life slowly ebbing away, while rodents swarmed over his body and literally ate him alive, Burton B. Jarvis, aged 26, a contracting teamster of 25 Chestnut street, Terre Haute, died today at the county hospital, whither he was taken when found last night. Jarvis was suffering from tuberculosis and came to California two years ago.

Last Sunday he left his hotel in the afternoon to go to the Ostrich farm for a pleasure trip. On the way he became faint, and walking over to a shade tree sat down. Instead of receiving his strength he fainted away and did not regain consciousness until long after dark that night.

For two days and nights he lay helpless, with ants and other insects tormenting him. Occasional passersby thought the man under the influence of liquor and did not go to his assistance. Late Tuesday evening help came and he was taken to the hospital, where he died today.

CROWE'S PLANS ANNOUNCED

Will Ask That Springs Be Made Party Defendant—Case Comes Up Today.

Alexander F. Crowe, owner of the reservoir sites on which this city has an option and lease, and who is defendant in condemnation proceedings filed by the Empire Water and Power company, will appear in defense when the case comes up for trial.

Crowe, who will be represented by Ira Harris, will not only ask that the city of Colorado Springs be included as a party defendant in the case, as announced in The Gazette yesterday, but will also request that a jury be impaneled to determine the value of the land, in case it is condemned, according to notice served yesterday on E. L. Holland, attorney for the Empire company.

I. N. STEVENS IN THE RACE

Former Colorado Springs Man Will Be Candidate for Congressman-at-Large.

Isaac N. Stevens, proprietor of the Pueblo Chieftain and former proprietor and editor of The Colorado Springs Gazette, will be a candidate for the nomination of congressman-at-large on the Republican ticket. This is the word that comes from New York, where Mr. Stevens has gone to write a new novel. His name will be placed before the Republican convention on September 12. It is said, for the nomination for the office now held by General George W. Cook.

SHOW SPITE TO HUGHES

HORSEMEN REFUSE TO RACE IN HIS PRESENCE.

Governor of New York Is Mark of Enmity of Turfmen at County Fair.

BALLSTON, N. Y., Aug. 26.—For an hour and a half this afternoon the openly expressed hostility of owners of trotting horses taking part in the events at the Saratoga county fair toward Governor Charles E. Hughes held up the racing program at the fair grounds here. Governor Hughes was a visitor at the fair today and addressed a big gathering which gave him a hearty greeting and an attentive hearing.

The governor's presence on the fair grounds, however, was resented by the horse owners, who have taken exception to the governor's efforts to suppress betting on the race tracks of this state. As a consequence they refused to start their horses while the executive was on the grounds.

"Strike" Is Embarrassing.

The "strike" of the horse owners created an unprecedented situation and caused the management of the fair marked embarrassment. When the conditions became known a sensation was created among the thousands of spectators on the grounds, and considerable pressure was put upon the trotting men to change their attitude and run off the races as scheduled.

In this the fair officials took the lead, urging their awkwardness of the situa-

DEMOCRATS MEET LABOR DAY

Chairman C. L. Starrett Issues Call for Fourth Judicial District Convention in This City.

Chairman Clyde L. Starrett of the Democratic committee of the Fourth judicial district, embracing the counties of El Paso, Teller, Lincoln, Cheyenne, Douglas, Elbert and Kit Carson, last night issued a call for the Fourth judicial district convention, to be held in the county court house building in this city Monday evening, September 7, at 8 o'clock. The convention will nominate a candidate for district attorney for this district and elect a judicial central committee.

Each of the seven counties in this judicial district is entitled to the same representation at the convention as in the state convention to be held in Pueblo September 8, and Chairman Starrett recommends that the same delegates be sent to the judicial as to the state convention in order that all counties may be represented at both with [illegible]. This is possible because Colorado Springs is a central point in the judicial district, and the delegates can attend the meeting here Monday night and go on to Pueblo for the state convention the next day.

BRYAN SPEAKS IN BOYHOOD CITY

CROWDS TURN OUT AT SALEM, ILL., TO GREET LEADER.

COMMONER GETS HUMOROUS

TELLS FUNNY STORY HE BROUGHT FROM CANADA.

EXPECTS REPUBLICAN VOTES

Democratic Candidate Is Recipient of Many Thousand Handshakes From Old Friends and Neighbors—Pays Visit to Family Plot in Cemetery.

SALEM, Ill., Aug. 26.—No crowd of such size or enthusiasm ever turned out in this city, the birthplace of W. J. Bryan, as that of today, when the Democratic candidate stopped over to greet his old friends and neighbors. The whole population was up and on hand early to extend a hearty welcome when Mr. Bryan reached here at 6:30 o'clock in the morning. They were augmented later in the day by thousands who came in on special trains.

The principal event was a speech by Mr. Bryan from a platform in the court house grounds, in which he appealed to the "Roosevelt Republicans" to support the Democratic ticket, because, he said, they could not hope for a realization of the promised reforms of their party. Mr. Taft, he said, was not the heir to Republican reforms.

During the day Bryan divided most of his time with the Bryan and Jennings branches of his family. After luncheon he rode out to the cemetery and placed flowers on the graves of his parents, and on his way back to the city inspected the new Bryan-Bennett library, presented by himself and the late Philo S. Bennett of Connecticut. The building cost $2,500, of which Mr. Bryan contributed $2,000. He also contributed the site, which is the site of the house in which he was born.

A General Handshaking.

Several thousand of the citizens of Salem and visitors shook the candidate's hand. He held receptions at the court house, hotel and railroad station, where the people fought their way to get near him. While Mr. Bryan was talking the crowd made up a purse of $20 and handed it to him as a campaign contribution. A check of $100 also was given by a man from Clinton county.

Preceding Mr. Bryan's remarks, Theodore A. Bell of California, who accompanied Bryan here, made a speech in which he compared the platform of the two dominant parties.

Mr. Bryan said in part:

"You know it would be very hard for me to make a political speech in Salem, because a good many of my earlier acquaintances here were Republicans, and I would not, for the world, say anything that would hurt the feelings of any Republican friends.

"But I was thinking today of a story

GETS FORMER LOVER TO SLAY HUSBAND

ISOLATED ISLAND SCENE OF HORRIBLE CRIME.

On Lonely Farm Young Wife Sickens of Mate and Affinity Kills Him With Ax.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 26.—A special to the Times from Valdez, Alaska, says:

Elemental passions aroused in the bosom of an unwilling bride far from the limits of civilization on the little island of Afognak, culminated in one of the most atrocious murders yet recorded, according to the confession of Macrena Kavorzoof, who induced the man whom she loved, to kill her husband. Both principals are now under arrest at Afognak from which place they will be brought to Valdez for trial by the district court. Peter S. Kavorzoof was a woodman who recently was married to a 19-year-old girl in the local Greek Catholic church. They went to their home at Ouzinky, where the bridegroom, who was much older than his wife, had a small farm. Not long afterward George Pestriakoff, a former admirer of the young woman, followed and she begged him to free her from her husband whom she feared.

Pestriakoff agreed to do so, according to the details, and felled Kavorzoof with an ax. The only witness to the terrible tragedy was the dead man's 13-year-old son by a former marriage. Macrena intimidated the lad and compelled him to assist her in disposing of the body. Then the slayer and the woman fled.

Soon afterward Kavorzoof was missed and through the boy it was first learned that he had been killed.

The fleeing couple were overtaken and lodged in jail. Two days later the woman broke down and admitted the crime. She justified it, however, by making charges of extreme cruelty against her husband.

Pestriakoff has no regret for the part he played, saying he sought to deliver the woman, whom he loved, from the terror she was living in.

POSTAL MACHINE IS MARVELOUS

CONVENTIONS TO BEGIN NEXT WEEK.

100,000 MEMBERS ORGANIZED

IS LARGEST BRANCH OF U. S. GOVERNMENT.

700,000 LETTERS HOURLY

Frederic J. Haskin Gives Original Account of Uncle Sam's Postoffice Department—Costs $223,000,000 Yearly and Is Growing by Bounds.

By Frederic J. Haskin.

Next week will witness the opening of the national conventions season of the people who man the big postal machine of the United States. The National Association of Postal Clerks will meet in Birmingham, Ala., on September 7, and the National Association of Postmasters will meet during the same week at Chattanooga, Tenn. Arrangements are being made for the meeting of the rural carriers a little later in Omaha, Neb. The railway postal clerks will have no convention this year, the 11,000 men who hold membership in that organization having disposed of their affairs for two years at their last annual convention.

The organized forces of the postal service probably have 100,000 members. The postal clerks are hoping for 20,000 members by the time the annual convention meets, the railway postal clerks have 11,000, the letter carriers, the postmasters and the rural free delivery carriers each have a large organization, and among them can probably muster 70,000 members. They have all adopted plans of organization which enable them to pull together for better salaries and better working conditions in their respective branches of the service. They have succeeded in inducing congress to give them an increase of pay, and, except the railway postal clerks, have gotten their week down to the eight-hour basis. Although the president promulgated an order prohibiting them from lobbying in their own behalf, they generally manage to accomplish the same things they accomplished before the order was issued.

Many Employes.

No other branch of the United States government, or of any other government for that matter, employs as many civilians as the postoffice establishment of the United States. There are 62,000 postmasters, to begin with. Then there are nearly 40,000 rural carriers and 15,000 star route carriers. Add to this 17,000 railway postal clerks, 27,000 letter carriers, as many more postal clerks, besides some thousand laborers, janitors, etc., and it will begin to appear that the postal service of this country employs the biggest civil army in the world—an army of not far from 200,000 strong.

And well it might be a big army. It has to handle 700,000 letters every hour of the twenty-four, every day in the year; it has to issue and redeem 200,000 money orders every hour, and register as many letters, to say nothing of the thousands of tons of second, third and fourth class matter which demand its attention. It has to pay out $50,000,000 a year to the railroads to carry that part of the mail which must make a

BUY 100,000 ACRES OF FLORIDA LAND

SPRINGS MEN PAY $500,000 FOR BIG TRACT.

Is in Everglades but Will Be Reclaimed—Bolles, O'Brien and Cain Back of Deal.

Following closely on the big Florida land investments of R. P. Davie and associates of this city, R. J. Bolles, William O'Brien, A. W. Cain and other Colorado Springs men have just closed one of the largest deals of the kind ever made in the southern state. The Florida State Drainage company, organized by them has purchased 100,000 acres of Everglades swamp land in Florida from the Southern States Land and Timber company, one of the largest organizations of its kind in the country. The consideration is understood to closely approximate $500,000.

R. J. Bolles, William O'Brien and A. W. Cain filed articles of incorporation for the company with the secretary of state yesterday. The capitalization is $100,000, divided into as many shares of a par value of $1 each. The three incorporators, together with Henry Russell Wray and John Bolles, all of this city, compose the directorate. Mr. Bolles is president, Mr. O'Brien vice president and Mr. Cain secretary and treasurer of the organization.

No definite plan for the disposition of the land has been made. The territory, which is in alternate sections of 640 acres each in the Everglades, is now being reclaimed by the state of Florida and the [illegible] and [illegible] of the town of [illegible]. The land is particularly well adapted to the cultivation of sugar cane and all kinds of vegetables.

HAZED RECRUIT BY HANGING

Shipmates Put Rope About Neck of Apprentice and Leave Him Suspended Until Found.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Aug. 26.—The Bulletin today prints a story of the hazing at the naval training station at Yerba Buena island of Earl Irey, a 21-year-old apprentice on the training ship Pensacola, which will probably result in loss of sight by Irey, and the court-martial of O. F. Guy and J. Valerous, two shipmtes.

The hazing, it is said, occurred August 10, and after every effort has been made to keep the incident from becoming public.

According to the story Irey was caught by Guy and Valerous as he was preparing to retire for the night, a noose was fastened tightly around his neck, the rope passed over a hook and he was swung clear of the deck, remaining suspended for five minutes.

He was found in this position by two masters-at-arms, his eyes bulging out and his tongue swollen and thick.

For days he lingered between life and death and the doctors now say that he has lost the sight of one eye and probably both. Irey will be sent to his home in Oklahoma.

COL. STEWART INVITES TEST

Says He Can Ride 90 Miles in 21 Hours or as Far as a Horse Can Carry Him.

WILLCOX, Ariz., Aug. 26.—Colonel W. F. Stewart, the artillery officer who is practically an exile at the abandoned Fort Grant, is greatly pleased at the order from the war department for him to take the horsemanship test of a 90-mile ride.

"I want to take the horsemanship test," said Stewart. "I can ride 90 miles in 21 hours, or any other distance that horses can carry me."

Colonel Stewart says the fact that he was not given a saddle horse at Fort Grant has been a hardship.

Colonel Stewart denies that he has any intention of surrendering and permitting himself to be forced out of the army. He still has over two years to serve at Fort Grant.

Fort Grant is in ruins and alive with rattlesnakes. The colonel's only companions are William F. Nall, who is caretaker of the post, and William B. Martin, the colored cook and man of all work.

BRUTAL MURDER A MYSTRY

Inquest Reveals Nothing to Show at Whose Hands Prominent Woman Met Violent Deaths.

SEVEN OAKS, England, Aug. 26.—The inquest over the body of Major General Luard's wife, who was assassinated near here on Monday of this week, has been opened, but the evidence thus far has not helped to unravel the mystery suggesting murder. The old general, who presented a pathetic figure, broke down as he related the discovery of his wife's body. He said that in the course of their last walk together, they met nobody, and that his wife had no enemies.

In reply to questions suggesting that murder might have been the act of an escaped lunatic, he said nobody connected with the family was insane.

The physicians who held the post-mortem examination agreed that the wounds could not have been self-inflicted. The inquest was then called to assist in running down the murderer, but the police are apparently without a clue.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 26.—The feature of this morning session of the American Bar association was an address by George Turner, former United States senator from the state of Washington. The day was devoted to the reports of standing committees on jurisprudence and law reforms, judicial administration and remedial procedure, legal education and admissions to the bar, commercial law, international law, grievances, obituaries, law reporting and digesting, patents, trade mark and copyright law, insurance law, taxation, uniform state laws, and the report of the comparative law bureau.

PUTS PREMIUM ON RECKLESS BANKING

TAFT EXPOSES FALLACY OF BRYAN'S PROPOSAL.

Says Guaranty of Banks Would Encourage Exploitation and Speculative Methods.

HOT SPRINGS, Va., Aug. 26.—It puts a premium on reckless banking and is an inducement to reckless banking."

Thus did Mr. Taft this afternoon, in response to a direct question, state what is, in his opinion, the vital objection to the proposed plan to guarantee deposits in national banks.

"That is the fundamental objection," he said. "Relieved of the responsibility to and the fear of his depositors, the tendency would be to induce exploitation, manipulation, and the use of assets of banks in a speculative way. It would promote speculation at the expense of his fellow bankers, and that ultimately means at the expense of the depositors. Any proposition as to the amount of the tax that should be assessed as based on the present rate of loss, is on an erroneous basis, as the danger of loss of deposits is increased vastly by the proposed system, so that the percentage of the tax would have to be vastly increased.

Plan Failed in New York.

"Mr. Bryan did favor a guaranty, the government to raise the funds by taxing the banks, but the Democratic platform provides for an enforced insurance which compels all national banks to contribute to the insurance funds to meet the defaults of the speculators. I am told that such a law was enforced in New York, and that the result was that when a panic ensued, the tax having been improperly calculated, there was not sufficient funds to pay the loss, but this I have only on the authority of a well-known writer on the subject."

There was some discussion here today of the position alleged to have been taken by Senator Hopkins of Illinois, that the policies of a presidential candidate, so far as they are not contained in the party platform, are not binding on the party. Judge Taft declined to make the matter a controversial one. It may be said, however, that attention was called to the fact that the rate bill that was recommended to Congress by Mr. Roosevelt was not specifically approved by the Republican platform of 1904, but that it was adopted by a Republican Congress on his recommendation.

Will Forsake Democrats.

Colonel John McAnerney of New York, formerly of Alabama, and a colonel in the Confederate army who was a Democratic delegate at large from the state of New Jersey in 1888, today gave out an interview here declaring that in the coming campaign he will support Taft, although he will not take an active part in the campaign.

AUGUSTA FLOODED BY WATER

City Is Cut Off From Communication and Fires Have Broken Out.

ATLANTA, Ga., Aug. 26.—The floods in the Carolinas and Georgia culminated today in the breaking of the big dam six miles from Augusta which diverts the water from the Savannah river into the canal at that point. The great flood of water let loose soon found its way into the city and tonight from Fifteenth street to the eastern boundary Augusta is under six to twelve feet of water, which is gradually rising.

A long distance telephone message from the Associated Press correspondent from Augusta says that the city is completely under water. In the downtown portion business houses, telegraph offices and newspaper offices are completely demoralized.

There were three deaths in Augusta today, two whites and one negro. No names could be secured.

The damage, it is estimated, will reach half a million dollars.

At 8:30 tonight it was learned through the single wire of the Georgia Railroad company, working partly into Augusta that the large cotton warehouse and wholesale grocery warehouses of the Nixon company were burning.

The union depot is under 10 feet of water and in the prominent residence district the water stands six feet deep and is slowly rising.

The Sacred Heart church is in six feet of water.

JOHN D. RAISES SALARIES

University of Chicago Professors Share in $2,000,000 Endowment.

CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—The new salary schedules for members of the University of Chicago faculty were completed today. The readjustment was made possible by John D. Rockefeller's recent addition of $2,000,000 to the university's endowment fund.

Heads of departments are raised from $4,000 to $6,000; professors not department heads, $3,000 to $4,500; associate professors, $2,500 to $3,000; assistant professors, $2,000 to $2,500; instructors, $1,200 to $1,800.

NAMED FOR TAFT.

Since the nomination of Secretary Taft, the newspapers of the country have been discovering the villages and hamlets bearing the name of the presidential candidate. According to the Chicago Tribune's dispatches, there are eleven places in this country bearing the name of Taft, besides any number of Taftvilles, Taftons, Taftvales and Taftdales. From all accounts each one of these distinguished places is preparing a long list of things it needs, that the federal government can supply, to be presented to "President Taft" after March 4 next. The demands run all the way from pea seeds to post offices. The states that have Taft on the map at present are Indiana, Kentucky, Louisiana, Mississippi, Missouri, Oregon, Texas, Tennessee, North Carolina, South Carolina and Oklahoma.

PYTHIANS FINISH TODAY

WILL CONSIDER TWO IMPORTANT MATTERS.

Home for Widows and Orphans Planned.—Denver May Get Headquarters.—Swem Honored.

Knights of Pythias will consider at their grand lodge session this morning two important questions. The first deals with the establishment of a home for Pythian widows and orphans, and the second concerns the transfer of the headquarters from Colorado Springs to Denver.

A strong movement is on foot to start a fund for a home for Colorado Pythian widows and orphans. It is the plan to levy a per capita assessment on all members of the order, of whom there are more than 8,000 in this state. This fund would accumulate until between $50,000 and $75,000 was on hand, when definite plans for the location and construction of the home would be considered. Victor and Cripple Creek Pythians are especially active in the movement. As yet there has been no talk as to the location of the home, but Colorado Springs will receive consideration.

For a number of years the headquarters of the Knights of Pythias of Colorado have been in this city and the grand lodge sessions have annually been held here. Some of the members favor transferring the headquarters to Denver, and this question will be threshed out at today's sessions. The result is in doubt.

Officers Are Chosen.

The chief business yesterday was the election of officers. As forecast in The Gazette, A. G. Swem of Alamosa was advanced to the position of grand chancellor. The other officers were named as follows: Horace G. Benson, Denver, grand vice chancellor; L. D. Crain, Fort Collins, grand prelate; W. S. O'Brien, Denver, grand keeper of records and seals; G. H. Winchell, La Junta, grand master of the exchequer; H. H. Wolbert, Delta, grand master-at-arms; C. M. Kellogg, Denver, grand inner guard; A. T. Davis, Trinidad, grand outer guard; D. J. Haviland, Boulder, grand lodge trustee.

This is the twentieth consecutive election for Mr. O'Brien.

The afternoon session was occupied with the introduction of resolutions and the consideration of changes in the by-laws. Officers will be installed tonight, as the closing session of the lodge.

"Dokies" from all over the state gathered at the K. of P. hall last night to take part in the ceremonial session. Fifteen tyros, many of whom are members of the grand lodge, were "done up."

Sisters Finish Today.

The Pythian Sisters bring their sessions to a close today with the election of officers in the morning, followed by a memorial service and a grand public installation under the direction of Past Grand Chief Amelia Hungerford at the Acacia hotel this evening. An exemplification of the work was given last night at the K. of P. hall in Colorado City, when Hermione temple No. 1 of Colorado Springs gave the officers' charges and Crystal temple No. 5 of Colorado City and Fidelity temple No. 2 of Manitou gave the degree work. The Pythian festivities will close this evening with the grand ball to be given at Stratton park pavilion by the Uniform Rank. The ball is given by the Colorado Springs companies complimentary to the First regiment, which is holding the encampment here.

The committees in charge of the ball are as follows:

Arrangements—Pikes Peak company No. 10, Major E. H. Carrington; Past Lieut. C. E. Beals, Sir Knight E. E. Glew; Garden of the Gods company No. 2, Major Alex Day, Col. N. L. Drew, Captain Edgar Peyton.

Floor Committee—Col. F. E. Phillips, Captain Alex. Reibscheid, Captain John Grant; assistants, Major Alex Day; Lieut. W. A. Day, Past Lieut. C. E. Beals, Sir Knight William Bancroft.

All Pythians who have not as yet received invitations to the ball may secure them from Major E. H. Carrington of company No. 10, Lieut. Alex Day of company No. 2, or from any member of the U. R. K. P. in the city.

VISIT PLEASED AUSTRALIANS

American Fleet Opened Eyes of Colonials and Aroused Sympathetic Feeling.

SYDNEY, N. S. W., Aug. 27.—The fleet of American battleships sailed from this port this morning, bound for Melbourne. The sky was cloudless, the sun was warm and only a moderate sea was running. The sloping shores of the harbor were crowded with thousands of people who had gathered to bid the fleet farewell.

Sydney has given of her best to make the stay of the Americans in this port a memorable one. For six days the officers and men were feted and entertained in every conceivable manner, and not one untoward incident occurred to mar this notable event in Sydney's history. Speaking of the visit, the Sydney Herald says:

"The American fleet's visit has enabled us to realize the meaning of a sea power. Now that the bond has been formed, and a wider outlook obtained, with the same blood in our veins, the result is bound to be helpful. It has been good to get closer to America and to know that Australia has been rediscovered."

The Telegraph says:

"The visit is of historical significance and of great importance to the relations between the two countries, based on common political aspirations and ties. The men's conduct has been admirable. Sydney never had such a week; the high note of enthusiasm was sustained. The British colonial feels a fraternal pride in the progress of the great republic and a strong sympathy in every situation where American interests are seriously concerned."

GUAYAQUIL, Ecuador, Aug. 26.—President Alfaro, according to public rumor, is suffering from a serious attack of heart failure, which may prove fatal at any moment.

NO USE FOR BRYAN

SOCIALIST WON'T ENTER COMMONER'S FOLD.

Says Democratic Leader Made a Pathetic Appeal for Votes Which He Will Not Get.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—John Spargo, a member of the national committee of the Socialist party has sent to William J. Bryan a long letter in which he answers the appeal by the latter at Indianapolis for Socialist votes.

In his letter he says it was a bold bid for Socialist support that Mr. Bryan made, and he calls it a pathetic and futile appeal.

He argues that the claim is insincere, and that the Democratic party is seeking a remedy for known abuses, declaring that "known abuses" are nowhere so flagrant as in the south, which is almost wholly Democratic. Mr. Spargo also asserts that conditions in the south, with peonage and other evils rampant through the alleged toleration of Democratic officeholders, are not an indication of any sincere desire on the part of the Democratic party for the people to rule.

In addition, he tells Mr. Bryan that "Democratic judges have been just as ready to serve injunctions and Democratic employers to seek them as Republicans," and he argues that the labor plank in the Democratic platform of 1896 was far more progressive than that in the present platform.

"There is no place in the Democratic party," concludes the letter, "for men who are looking and hoping for better and juster social conditions."

PREFERS DEATH TO JAIL

WOMAN IMPLICATED IN RIOTS SUICIDES.

Charged by Grand Jury With Murder of Negro, She Takes Poison When Arrested.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 26.—Mrs. Kate Howard, 42 years old, one of the leaders in the recent riots in this city, committed suicide today by swallowing acid while being placed under arrest.

She died as she was being led into the jail.

Before the special grand jury now in session many witnesses testified that Mrs. Howard was one of the ringleaders of the mob which wrecked Loper's restaurant. She was the first person indicted and was held on several counts in the sum of $10,000, which she furnished. When she was released she said she would never be arrested again.

Today, shortly after the special grand jury returned another indictment against her charging murder in connection with the recent lynchings, Deputy Sheriff Kramer was sent to Mrs. Howard's rooms to arrest her. Mrs. Howard received the officer at the door. She secretly swallowed a large dose of poison, then said: "I'm ready to go now."

She accompanied the deputy to the jail, two blocks away, and was just entering the jail door when she fell dead.

Ten more indictments, three charging murder, were returned by the special grand jury late this afternoon. True bills charging murder were found against Mrs. Howard, Abraham Raymer and Ernest Humphrey, alias "Slim" Humphrey. Raymer and Mrs. Howard are charged with the murder of the negro Burton.

Humphrey is charged with the murder of the negro Donnigan. No bail was allowed in either of the cases.

This is the second indictment for murder against Raymer, the first being returned last week, charging him with the murder of Donnigan. Witness testified that he was one of the leaders of the mob.

Ethel Howe, a young woman, was indicted for malicious mischief. She was a friend of Mrs. Howard.

GATES IS A GOOD LOSER

Lost $40,000 on Turn of a Card and Texas Wants Him in Congress.

From the New York America.

Major Charles O. Birmingham, of Galveston, Texas, who has been at the Hotel Astor for the past week on his first visit to New York, agreed yesterday that he was a great friend and admirer of John W. Gates, and gave some of his reasons. In the smoking compartment of a train on his way to Asbury Park he regaled a group of men with a story about Mr. Gates.

"Mr. Gates is surely a good game sport," he said, "and I have been much amused to learn that some his Texas friends want to run him for Congress. If he runs in that district he will be elected, hands down. The other day he paid a short business visit to a Texas town and endeared itself to the hearts of the local populace.

"Some of the gamesters of the town heard in advance that Mr. Gates was coming and prepared furnish a little entertainment and excitement. They raised a poker pot of $40,000.

"'All right, boys,' said Mr. Gates, 'I really haven't the time to play poker for that roll of mon but I'll tell you what I'll do. I'll match you for it.'

"There was a hasty consultation and the delegation agreed to the proposal. Mr. Gates pulled a half dollar and slapped it down the table, saying, 'I'm matching you.'

"One of the members of the delegation fished out a quarter and covered it on the table with his palm. Gates lifted his hand, a had heads up. The Texan lifted his hand and displayed tails up.

"Gates just laughed, took out a check book and wrote a check for $40,000 to the leader of the party. Then he bought all around."

AERONAUTICS.

As several members of the Aero club of New England are desirous of becoming international pilots, North Adams, Mass., the headquarters of the organization, promises to be a lively place before the end of the season. To become an international pilot, one must make 10 ascensions, two of which must be alone, and one at night.

The airship possesses a fascination that the automobile never had. No one ever paid an admission fee to see an automobile make its first, slow and devious journey.

It is only necessary to look back to the automobile of a decade ago and see what a propensity it had for going wrong at the critical moment to obtain an idea of the difficulties that beset the path of the aviators of today.

In all probability, Congress will be urged to set aside a special paragraph in the next tariff act for airships. The present tariff law contains no provision for airships, although balloons are specified and pay duty at the rate of 30 per cent ad valorem. Farman's machine was permitted to come into this country free of duty under the section of "scientific instruments for demonstrations or educational purposes, when the machine is operated by the owner."

A cash prize of $25,000 will probably be offered by the Federation of American Aero clubs for the trans-continental balloon race to be held in November. Start will be made either from Los Angeles or San Francisco, with the Atlantic seaboard as the objective point.

An expert French aeronaut, who has been permitted to see the Wrights' aeroplane at Le Mans, who from intimate knowledge of the Farman, de la Grange and other French aeroplanes is capable of forming an accurate comparison, declares that the Wrights' aeroplane is destined to be the marvel of Europe. He ascribes its superiority to the transmission, which is by chain, the wonderful articulation of the apparatus and the methods for governing the same, and especially the propellers.

It is the intention of the board of ordnance of the United States army to ask the next session of Congress for an appropriation of $1,000,000, to be used in experiments of dirigible airships, such as are now being tried out in Europe. Forty dirigibles can be built for the cost, $8,000,000, of one battleship of the Connecticut type.

The Smithsonian institution at Washington, deluged with requests for works on aero-dynamics by the late Professor Cyrus P. Langley, has issued a pamphlet containing the four principal papers written by him on his flying machine.

"High airs" bids fair to become as commonplace, in a few years, as "high seas."

tion caused by the balk in the program. Their efforts were fruitless, however, the owners remaining obdurate and for an hour and a half refusing to budge from their position. Get Revenge of Governor.

Those in charge of the fair threatened to have the owners disqualified for their refusal to come to time when the races were called, but even this threat had no effect in altering their attitude and the races were held up during the entire period of the executive's visit to the fair. Governor Hughes was scheduled to leave here on the 4 o'clock train and shortly before that time he left the fairgrounds inclosure. Immediately upon his departure the racing proceeded. The lateness of the start caused the continuance of the trotting until dark this evening.

contesting tickets comes under the same rules, so that if any contest is invalidated because not filed with Chairman Jones personally, then every regular caucus ticket is also void.

Trickery Is Charged.

It is charged by the Musser faction that Chairman Jones absence from headquarters all evening was prearranged so that no contests could be filed at headquarters, and that the Jones-Leddy faction could only find Jones and hand him contesting tickets on the street or any place he. As stated, however, contests filed at headquarters must be valid, if the regular caucus tickets are so regarded.

The Leddy people are willing to have the county convention instruct the state delegates for Musser as well, but the Musser adherents claim that El Paso county will be regarded as asking too much if Musser is pled for supreme justice and Leddy for governor. They claim that Musser has much the better chance for nomination at the hands of the Democratic state convention, and want all Democrats to concentrate their strength on him.

This has resulted in a factional fight. Since the Leddy people can not "get in" on the proposition in harmony with the Musser boosters, they are trying to defeat them and secure a Leddy-instructed delegation, regardless of whatever else happens. The Musser people are also working overtime to land the nomination for their man, and as a result county politics has been almost forgotten.

Of the 24 precincts from which caucus tickets were filed last night, only six, all in Colorado Springs, instructed their delegates. They were instructed to work for the nomination of both Musser and Leddy.

THREE COMPLAINTS FILED AGAINST TRIO

LEE STRAUSS, DENVER MAN, STARTS BALL ROLLING.

Mrs. Remy and Hibbard Also Claim to Have Been Victimized—Still Another Action Probable.

Lee Strauss is the name of the Denver man stopping at the Cliff house in Manitou, who is alleged to have been buncoed out of $1,000 worth of diamonds in a Colorado City saloon last Saturday by Harry Hall and W. St. Clair, two of the three supposed shoplifters who were captured by the police Saturday evening.

Strauss swore to a complaint in Justice O. R. Dunnington's court yesterday afternoon, charging Hall and St. Clair with securing the valuables by means of a confidence game. The defendants were committed to the county jail in default of bond of $800 each for their appearance September 2. Owing to Strauss' desire to return to Denver, Deputy District Attorney O. E. Collins wanted the case set for today, but James A. Orr, attorney for the defendants, claimed that they could not be ready for trial so soon and the above date was set.

Two complaints were also sworn out in Justice W. N. Ruby's court by victimized merchants of Colorado Springs. Mrs. S. A. Remy charged Hall and St. Clair, together with Mrs. Fanny Hall, the third member of the party, with stealing two hats valued at $25 each. The prisoners were committed to jail in default of bond in the sum of $800 each for their appearance September 2. In the same court C. A. Hibbard swore out a complaint against Hall and St. Clair, accusing them of stealing two ladies' suits, worth $32 and $35, respectively. The defendants were committed in default of bond of $800 each, and will be given a hearing September 3.

May File Another Complaint.

S. D. McCracken of the Colorado Springs Dry Goods company will probably swear to a complaint against both men, and possibly Mrs. Hall, as a result of the theft of a lady's coat, worth $20, from his store Saturday noon.

The above actions against the prisoners in the justice courts were deemed advisable, in order to get the cases started, but the district attorney may file direct criminal informations against the trio in the district court, and thus take the entire matter to that tribunal.

The valuables found in the possession of the gang and taken in custody of Chief of Police W. S. Reynolds were replevined by their attorney yesterday, and the goods were taken in charge by Constable W. P. Larrabee of Justice Ruby's court. The replevin suit was set for trial Monday.

A diamond locket containing five large diamonds, a two-carat diamond ring and a diamond stud, weighing two and one-half carats, all found in the possession of the trio, is said to be the property of Strauss. No trace has been found of the five-eighths-carat Tiffany diamond ring stolen from Zehner's jewelry store Friday afternoon.

journey by rail. The trains which the railroads carry it on make an aggregate distance of 400,000,000 miles, or the equivalent of two round trips to the sun, with several lunar side trips thrown in. The star route carriers have to travel 160,000,000 miles a year, and the rural free delivery men must cover in the aggregate at least 240,000,000 more. Summed up, the men who carry the United States mail a full year must travel three-quarters of a billion miles.

Costs $223,000,000.

The postal establishment is expected to cost the government $223,000,000 this years. But of course it expects to get the bulk of it back. The money which the people pay across the postoffice window this year will probably amount to about $210,000,000, leaving a deficit of $13,000,000 to be met by the government. But while this sort of a deficit occurs each year, the people think the government has no real reason to complain. They point out that it gets all its own individual mail carried free, and that if it but paid for it at the same rate it charges the people, it would foot up much more than what it has to pay out to make good the deficit. In other words, it is their contention that even while making good the deficit, the government is driving a pretty good bargain. There are thousands of tons of franked documents, and millions of letters carried for which nothing is paid except in the making good of the annual deficit.

There have been many people saying that the establishment of rural free delivery is responsible for the continuance of this annual deficit in the postal operations. But rural free delivery pleads not guilty. It points out that the deficit is hardly as much per year now as it was when there was no rural free delivery. It cites figures to show that there is no relation whatever between the extension of its service and the deficit. And then, to clinch its argument, it shows that $16,000,000 a year is saved by the abolition of star routes and postoffices which it rendered no longer necessary. With this saving and the added business rural free delivery brings about, enough money is made, it claims, to make it self-supporting, and it indignantly denies the accusation that it has to lean on the government at all.

Rural Free Delivery.

The outgoing mail from a rural free delivery route always shows a big increase, and the same is true of the incoming mail. Each piece dispatched means that much more money in the postoffice coffers, and each extra piece received from the higher class offices has a similar meaning. In the fourth-class postoffices of the country, and all the rural offices practically are in this class, the government simply goes into partnership with the postmaster, giving him face value for all the stamps he cancels in the regular course of business, this to be his compensation in lieu of salary. In this way all of the mail dispatched at rural offices never yielded a cent of revenue to the government; it had to meet the expense of carrying it and supplying the stamps. Under rural free delivery it all goes to the government, and the receipts, incoming and outgoing, do not lack much of supporting the service.

Plan to Wipe Out Deficit.

Speaking of the annual deficit, Postmaster General Meyer had a plan for wiping it out, which he urged upon the last session of congress. He told them that if they would provide for a parcels post, it would not involve any appreciable extra expense, while, on the other hand, the revenues from it would be more than sufficient to wipe out this deficit. But congress did not look with friendly mien upon this, and so Mr. Meyer's pet scheme still slumbers in a not too spacious pigeonhole in the committee room of postoffices and post roads. Meanwhile, the American people still enjoy the amusing position of being able to send a parcel to England at smaller cost than they could mail it to the next door neighbor. Also, a man can send an eleven-pound package through the mails to England, while he cannot send one of more than four pounds to his friend in the next town. It is a wonder that London mail order houses have not taken advantage of this opportunity which the country merchant claims a parcels post would afford the mail order houses.

The maps which the postoffice department makes of the counties in which there is rural free delivery, as well as those of the various individual routes are soon to be offered to the public at the cost of printing and handling. The county maps will be about 24 by 30 inches and will show all roads and all residences. They will cost about fifty cents each, and the maps of individual routes will cost about ten cents each. There promises to be a great demand for these maps. Already in some of the counties where there is full county service, arrangements are being made to get these maps for schools.

They are regarded as a valuable addition in the stimulation of this interest of the young mind in geography. Of course, a map of the road to school, with all of the houses placed on it, will have more interest for the child taking his first steps in geography than a map of the world or of the United States, and he will the more readily get the map idea into his head. Another use to which they will be widely put is to guide the tourist and other travelers. The counties having full free delivery service are always progressive, thickly settled and wealthy counties, so that there will be many who will have occasion to use these maps. It is probable that it may be arranged so that people wanting maps can order them through their postmasters.

People are gradually learning to exercise more care in the addressing of mail matter. Every year the number of pieces of mail reaching the dead letter office has decreased, in proportion to the number of pieces handled. During July of the present year there were 101,242 fewer pieces to reach the dead-letter office than during the corresponding month of last year. There were still 932,863 pieces that did reach this morgue of the mail, however, which argues that there is still plenty of room for improvement. Fourth Assistant Postmaster General DeGraw is still fighting for better addresses and still trying to persuade writers to put their own name and address on the outside of their mail, and to the growth of this practice he attributes the decrease of the business of investigating the dead and sending to the potter's field of maildom those which cannot be identified.

Increase Is Rapid.

If the people continue for the next fifteen years to increase their patronage of the mails as rapidly as they have in the past seven years, the receipts would then amount to over half a billion dollars a year. They jumped from $60,000,000 in 1890 to $102,000,000 in 1900, and from that to $183,000,000 in 1907. The postal establishment of no other country in the world shows half as great gains in the business handled. Yet the American system is behind some of the others in many things, especially in the matter of parcels post and postal savings banks. While the finance commission is abroad studying the currency systems of the leading European nations, it is probable that they will also study the postal bank question. The whole world recognizes that habits of saving, instilled into the hearts of the poor, constitute the best insurance there can be against poverty. Sociological statistics tend to the conclusion that there are but few people who have not spent enough idly and uselessly to have kept them from even needing the alms of their fellow men. The postal savings bank's principal mission is to lead the poor to save, and through that agency to largely banish poverty.

that I thought would fit the case with the Republicans who are friendly to Mr. Roosevelt. I got this story in Canada. An American official up there told it to me. He said that there was a man nominated for office and he was very anxious to get a big vote in his home town, or the town where he was born, and he went back there and made a speech, and they turned out those of his own party and those of other parties and he made a personal appeal to them. He told them that he was very anxious to have a large vote in the town of his birth, just as a compliment to him, and in the course of his speech he said:

"'Many of you will not agree with me in party affiliations, but I believe you will vote for me just for old friendship's sake,' and he pointed to an old man named Smith. He said: 'Now, there is old Brother Smith. I know we do not believe in the same party, but I have known him from the time I was a boy, and he has known me, and I just believe that Brother Smith will vote for me just for old acquaintance sake. Won't you, Brother Smith?'

Other Fellow Not Running.

"'Now, Brother Smith was a very frank old man and he blurted out, I would vote for the devil first.' 'Well,' responded the young man, 'as your friend is not running this year, can not I expect your vote?'

"So I feel that as the friend of the Roosevelt Republicans is not running this year I am going to get some of their votes. But I might put it on a stronger ground than that. There are certain things that come naturally by descent, and reforms come by descent. You cannot convey a reform by will. The President has tried to bequeath certain reforms to the Republican candidate, but I am the next of the blood of the reform business and they come to me. In fact, I think I could make it stronger than that. If a man dies and leaves no children, the property goes back to his parents, and so far as reforms are concerned, the Republican party has died without heirs, and the reforms go back to the one from whom the Republican party got the reforms. So I think I have a right to expect a good many Republican votes this year."

DENVER COPS BEAT PRISONER

Assault Man Suspected of Killing Officer Stephens and Pummel Him With Clubs.

DENVER, Aug. 26.—John Bradley, alias John Brennan, a cowboy, who was arrested late today on suspicion of having murdered Policeman William P. Stephens last night, was set upon by a number of police officers at headquarters tonight and narrowly escaped being beaten to death at their hands. Detectives, who had the prisoner in charge, fought off the infuriated patrolmen and dragged their charge to a place of safety.

Bradley, or Brennan, was captured tonight by city detectives at a ranch about 20 miles from the scene of the killing last night and arrived at the city hall here just as the night force of policemen were gathering for duty. His captors were going through the hall with Bradley when the report became circulated that Officer Stephens' slayer was in the building.

Instantly bluecoats swarmed into the corridors and attacked the man under arrest. He was knocked down with police clubs and the enraged brother officers of Stephens seemed bent on exterminating him when Chief Armstrong, with a bunch of detectives, charged the mob.

The appearance of the chief checked the attack long enough for Bradley's rescuers to drag him away. He were then placed in a cell and is being closely guarded. He was not seriously hurt. Chief Armstrong declares that the evidence against Bradley is strong.

Had Planned Lynching.

The spirit of revenge shown in the assault on Bradley by police officers tonight was not broken by the failure of the attack. It leaked out that a plan had been decided upon that involved the appropriation of the jailer's keys when he was dozing, as is his custom in the early hours of the morning. The cell in which Bradley was confined was then to be opened and Bradley taken out and hanged or shot. Chief Armstrong, when warning of the plot reached him, had Bradley removed to the county jail, where he is now under heavy guard.

THE RESPONSIBILITY OF LEADERSHIP.

MR. CLARENCE C. HAMLIN showed himself last spring to be a political leader of shrewdness and sagacity, all the more extraordinary because he was almost a new man in the field. Until that time his participation in politics had been very slight. His victory in the senatorial primaries was sweeping, and the fact that it was by no means as clean cut as might have been desired does not detract in the least from the credit due him for the qualities he displayed as a machine organizer. That victory made him the leader of his party in El Paso County and a political figure of more than local prominence. Incidentally it placed upon his shoulders a responsibility that can no more be denied than can the fact of his leadership.

Under present political conditions in El Paso County the people have very little to say as to who shall be their candidates. It is true that we have primaries ostensibly for the purpose of enabling the people to select the delegates in the nominating conventions, and these delegates ostensibly name the ticket, but in actual practice nothing of the kind happens. The organization, which at present means Mr. Hamlin and his principal advisers, canvasses the list of eligibles in each precinct and selects for the primary ticket such persons as it knows will vote in the convention for candidates of its own selection.

This is a high-handed procedure and somewhat contrary to popular notions of popular government, but just the same it is the way the game is played and at present they are playing it for all it is worth. No man or woman can get on the primary ticket in any precinct in this town without first having pledged himself or herself to vote in the convention for the candidates named by Mr. Hamlin and his associates. The result will be that the convention, instead of being made up of real representatives of the people, will be composed only of representatives of Mr. Hamlin, and instead of actually nominating a ticket which shall be an expression of the will of the Republican voters of this community it will merely ratify Mr. Hamlin's wishes.

FOR ONE MAN TO DECIDE.

Mr. Hamlin's personal responsibility in this matter is so absolutely clear that it is not a matter for quibbling or dispute. The word has gone forth from his headquarters that he is "keeping his hands off," but this need not cause anybody a moment's doubt. The facts speak for themselves. Somebody who seems to have a good deal to say about it, either Mr. Hamlin himself or his principal campaign manager, has already selected a ticket and secured delegates in each precinct pledged to its support in the convention. If this ticket was in any sense representative of the wishes of the Republican voters of El Paso County there would be less reason for criticising it, but it is nothing of the sort. The Republicans of this county certainly do not want their public affairs intrusted to such men as Birdsall and others of his caliber who have been selected for office. This fact has already been made as plain as it could be without a popular vote, and if Mr. Hamlin insists on carrying out the program they will prove it to his complete satisfaction next November when they do get a chance to vote on it.

The despotism of boss domination is bad enough under any circumstances, but experience has shown that the people will submit to it so long as it is a benevolent despotism—that is, so long as the boss permits them to think that they are having something to say about public affairs. But when he disregards their wishes and insults their intelligence as flagrantly as is being done at this time he simply invites disaster for himself and his party. The Republican party, with the aid of a large and enthusiastic Democratic contingent, intrusted Mr. Hamlin last spring with the responsibility of leadership, and the time will come when he must render an accounting. If he wrecks its chances of victory next fall, as he is sure to do if the present course is persisted in, the accounting may be made sooner than would be agreeable to his senatorial ambitions. It may be worth while for Mr. Hamlin to think this over before proceeding further with the program now mapped out.

THE CROWE RESERVOIR SITES.

NOW that the Citizens' Committee has reported favorably on the purchase of the Crowe lands on the north slope of Pikes Peak, there is hardly a doubt that the tracts will be acquired. The city already has an option on the property and its final purchase would be followed immediately by legal action to oppose the condemnation proceedings brought by the Empire company. The land would be of little or no value to the city if these proceedings were successful, but in the opinion of the committee there is almost no doubt of their failure, for a private corporation can not condemn public property.

The water shed on the north slope of the Peak has a water making capacity equal to and perhaps greater than that on the south slope, where our present reservoir system is located. Many people who are thoroughly familiar with water conditions in this region believe that it would have been better for the city if it had established its system on the north side in the beginning, and there is no doubt that a mistake has been made in the past in not gaining at least a foothold there. It is not too late now to rectify this, though the price to be paid for the Crowe 640 acres—$16,000—is probably much larger than it could have been acquired for a few years ago. There was a time not so many years ago when the entire Seven Lakes district could have been had for $2,800, but with the usual lack of foresight displayed in such matters the city failed to purchase it until 1901, and then it had to pay $69,000. Similarly the property now owned by the Northfield company could have been had a few years ago for about one-tenth of the figure at which it is now held.

PROVISION FOR THE FUTURE.

We have not yet reached the limit of population permitted by our present water system if it were properly administered, though the experience of this summer has shown its deficiencies under the present management. We must constantly make provision for the future, and even if there were no present need for more water it would be the wise thing to buy the Crowe tract so as to gain a foothold on the north side of the Peak. In addition to the Crowe tract about 1,000 acres will be needed, and after this is acquired the city can await the time when it is in better financial condition before proceeding with the construction of its reservoirs. It is not at all necessary to begin actual construction work in the near future, but merely to do enough to show good faith.

Colorado Springs is growing at a healthy rate and will ultimately need every foot of water in the Pikes Peak region. If the necessary steps had been taken a few years ago to acquire all of the water rights and reservoir sites now owned by private companies the city would have been saved hundreds of thousands of dollars, but this was not done and now it will cost probably $1,000,000 to complete the system capable of being built on the north slope of the Peak alone. It is another glaring example of the wasteful and incompetent methods of our city government in the past.

A BUREAU OF STATISTICS.

THE creation of a State Bureau of Statistics, Information and Immigration is a matter that should receive the consideration of the next General Assembly of Colorado. Intelligent advertising of the state's resources has done and will continue to do a great deal for the advancement of Colorado, and such a bureau would be an important factor in increasing the efficiency of this advertising. Through it accurate statistics and reliable industrial information could be prepared for general circulation. In the past this work of exploiting the Centennial State before the world has been done by the various boards of trade, commercial clubs and business organizations, and by persons and companies directly interested in certain realty or development projects.

Fair progress has been made, but the work has necessarily been handicapped and in many instances hampered by the exaggerated statements of over-zealous promoters. Capitalists and homeseekers want definite, reliable statistics and information. The old expression "Figures don't lie," is a mere phrase, more often true than untrue. Coming from the state bureau, information would bear an official stamp and this would give confidence to the investor. The bureau could also do important work in directing the advertising of the state into such channels that it would reach the better and more desirable classes, and in giving its attention to the character of the people who come here to become the state's future citizens, it could accomplish much for the welfare of the state. The cost of such a bureau would be small as compared to the amount of good that would accrue to the state through its establishment.

CANDIDATES AT CHURCH.

From the New Haven Journal-Courier.

The presidential campaign is doing wonders in one way at least. It is compelling the various candidates to attend church every Sunday, and to let the fact be advertised, too.

RAILROADS AND DEMAGOGUES.

From the Washington Post.

If the roads oppress the shipper, production and consumption will fall off; and the roads thrive as production and consumption increase, and languish as production and consumption shrink. We hold that proposition to be fundamental, and if there had been no demagogues in the land, the last forty years, we have no doubt that the railroad question would this moment afford no more "problem" than do the growing of potatoes in Michigan, or the production of watermelons in Georgia.

THE WISDOM OF BRYAN.

From the St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

When, in 1896 and 1900, Bryan's policy, if it had succeeded, would have placed the silver trust in virtual control of the government, he was preaching the doctrine of the rule of the people. In those two canvasses, he in substance declared, in his platforms and on the stump, that 50 cents was 100 cents. By endeavoring to force the people of the country to accept half a dollar where a whole dollar was due to them, he showed his devotion to the principle that each individual is entitled to the reward of his labor. He went up and down the highways and byways of the country preaching his political hypocrisy and denouncing everybody who stood for the elemental demands of honesty by the government in meeting its obligations, and in paying the laborer dollars worth 100 cents, as "enemies of the human race."

SAME THING, BUT DIFFERENT.

From the Washington Star.

Though apparently jealous rivals, Mr. Hearst's and Mr. Watson's parties can do no more than contribute to the same result, the election of Mr. Taft. Of every ten voters they get, eight, if left to choose between Taft and Bryan, would doubtless vote for Bryan, so that the rivalry of these two parties will hurt only the Democratic party. Perhaps Mr. Hearst and Mr. Watson agree that before a third party can have any hope, conditions must be made much worse than they are, and that the election of the Republican ticket will hasten that time, when they may have a ticket of Watson and Hearst or of Hearst and Watson, standing on the platform of the Populist or the Indepop party. Some such denouement seems not altogether impossible.

THE FARM DISTILLERY.

From the New York Globe.

When congress passed the bill exempting industrial alcohol from taxation a new era of light and heat and power development for the farmer seemed imminent. It was calculated that the denatured alcohol could be manufactured from vegetable refuse at a cost so low that gasoline would be driven from the market and the farmer provided with an almost limitless supply of readily available power. As yet these hopes and predictions have entirely failed of realization, and the new fuel is still about three times as expensive as gasoline.

The information that two government officials are now in Europe studying foreign methods for the production of cheap alcohol with the ultimate purpose of using the knowledge gained in an experimental laboratory distillery at Washington is, therefore, very welcome. Evidently until the government does the experimental work necessary to the development of a practical form of farm distillery the farmer will receive little benefit from the advent of untaxed alcohol, and he was apparently the chief beneficiary congress had in mind when the tax was removed.

ANOTHER CHALLENGE.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

Please print the following in your Open Parliament:

To L. L. Aitken, Chairman Republican County Central Committee, El Paso County:

Having faith in the integrity of the majority of voters who cast their ballots in favor of the political party represented by you, and believing that they are making an honest effort to ascertain from the different political parties now in the field just what the economic truths confronting them are, in order that they may cast an intelligent ballot at the coming fall election, we ask that you send as many good speakers as you can to meet our speakers in a public discussion of these questions. Your party leaders have accused us of almost everything that would naturally emanate from a disordered brain and we sincerely hope you will be able to meet us with some good speakers who will be able to show us the error of our way and save those of us who are not past redemption, so that we may forever cease from leading others astray.

We will be pleased to meet your representatives at any time.

CONSTRUCTION OF DAMS.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

In this morning's Gazette there is a statement concerning the city's intention to build four big reservoirs on the north slope of Pikes Peak. One of the dams is to be 120 feet high. It is to have a center core of concrete from 10 to 12 feet thick at the bottom, etc., and to be reinforced with dirt below and stone above.

Now, as I have seen a number of dams washed out, over 200 dams after they were in ruins, studied the defects of many of them and superintended the construction of over thirty, I believe that my experience warrants me in saying that such a dam can be constructed safely only where there is a very limited watershed above the reservoir, or in a country where there is no danger from a cloudburst.

This core-dam in the location mentioned would not be safe if it had a cross-section at base of 500 feet and a side-spillway cut out of the solid rock 10 feet lower than the top of the dam, even if the spillway was wide enough to give a normal safety of 5 to 1.

Again, the filling with rock above the core is rank delusion. In fact the filling in of stone or dirt above a core or masonry dam is a delusion and a snare that costs the people of the United States every year millions of dollars and hundreds of lives. We have in the state of Colorado today a very large number of core-dams and other convenient death-traps that some day will give the engineer and others a practical exhibition of what water assisted by ignorant engineering can do. At no distant day our city will get a costly lesson—costly in property and costly in life—from her upper Monument reservoir. Why build death-traps?

THE MAN AND HIS JOB

By Herbert J. Hapgood

Are you making use of every one of the 800,000,000 cells in your brain? Or are most of them plugged up with stupid laziness? Each one of those cells represents a unit of work, just as each cell in the honeycomb means a certain amount of labor for the bee. The beehive cells are filled with honey and the cells of your brain are filled with protoplasm. This protoplasm may be dead, useless stuff, or it may be the active, wide-awake kind. Is the protoplasm in your brain dead or alive? If most of it is dead, then wake it up. Stimulate it with some good old-fashioned, hard-headed thinking. Don't be afraid to think hard. If you are not required to think constantly in your present position, get a job where you will have to use all your brains.

The average weight for the human brain is 360 grams. The monkey's brain weighs 150 grams. If you are using only half your brains, then you are no better off than the monkey, and who wants to be a monkey?

When you accept a position with a concern you are selling your brains—all of them. Be fair in the matter. Be fair with your employer and be fair with yourself. Give him all you have. Let the convolutions in your gray matter grow deeper. Get the benefit of every one of the 800,000,000 cells.

Don't be a monkey, but use all your brains.

Women with this birthdate will probably meet an opportunity to travel, remove or change their condition. The outcome should prove happy.

Men with this birthdate must beware during the twelvemonth lest in a sudden emergency they refuse to listen to the dictation of reason.

The sign over children born today is quickness, cleverness and love of change. Girls may develop a weakness for expecting all others to do homage to their mental powers. Boys will be too fond of constant variety.

HEAVYWEIGHTS TO RF ON HUSTINGS

BRYAN, TAFT AND ROOSEVELT TO TAKE STUMP.

Campaign Will Be Most Noteworthy in Line of Orators—Literary Bureau a Feature.

Special to Gazette.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—The report from Hot Springs that Judge Taft may yield to pressure and take the stump in behalf of his own candidacy is cheerful news to those who like a lively campaign. Stumping tours already are being arranged for Mr. Bryan, and with Taft on the stump the campaign ought not to be notable for its dullness.

It would have required on the part of Judge Taft a lot more resolution than most men possess to have carried out his original program of speaking only to Cincinnati visitors. He likes the stump, and the desire to see and hear him is almost universal. Mr. Bryan always has been able to draw large audiences but as he has become a familiar figure upon the hustings of almost every state in the Union and Judge Taft is comparatively a stranger in most parts of the country, it is altogether likely the Taft audiences will rival the Bryan audiences in size.

Stump Was a Hoodoo.

There has been a tradition in American politics that the candidate for president who took the stump was foredoomed to defeat, and it certainly is true that history has seemed to justify this belief. But what is going to happen if both Bryan and Taft go upon the stump? We are not quite ready to believe it would result in the election of the Prohibitionist, the Populist or any of the several other presidential nominees.

Roosevelt Will Be Heard.

With both Taft and Bryan stumping the country, there will be needed but one thing to make the campaign notable for its speech-making, and that one thing promises to be forthcoming. It is announced with authority that President Roosevelt will make a number of speeches in behalf of the Republican ticket. The times and places of these speeches have not yet been determined, but one or two of them will be in New York. It is contrary to precedent for a President to become a stump speaker, but what boots a precedent or two? Mr. Roosevelt has smashed a lot of them during the past seven years, and the American people invariably have applauded. There is not the slightest reason to doubt they will applaud his taking the stump for a man he caused to be nominated for the presidency.

And when Mr. Roosevelt does make stump speeches he will have audiences that are audiences. In comparison, the crowds to which Messrs. Taft and Bryan will speak will look like corporal's guards. If there were no other attraction, the absolute novelty of a President of the United States on the political hustings would cause multitudes to flock to hear him.

Kern and Sherman Strong.

The strength of the speaking campaign will be further reinforced by the tails of the ticket, with Mr. Kern and Mr. Sherman are long and popular men on the stump and the respective campaign managements will use them a lot to good purpose. In the 1900 campaign Colonel Roosevelt, the candidate for Vice President, and his popularity on the stump, did a lot to offset the loss as a speaker of Mr. McKinley, whose conception of presidential dignity would not admit of his active participation in the campaign.

Four years ago President Roosevelt followed the example of his predecessors and refused to make any speeches in his own behalf, just as he probably would do this year were he and not Judge Taft the Republican nominee. Judge Parker made a few speeches, but did not take the stump. Vice President Fairbanks campaigned for the Republican ticket, Henry Gassaway Davis, the Democratic nominee for vice president, was not a campaign orator. The result was a very dull campaign. The most notable speech of the campaign was made by Elihu Root, whose utterance had been revised by Mr. Roosevelt.

Both great parties will conduct their speakers' bureaus this year more systematically than ever before. Mr. Hitchcock will have kept a system of card indexes with a record of the effectiveness of each speaker and the topics upon which he talks best. Men who have made a hit with their tariff speeches will be sent to sections where the tariff is uppermost as a campaign issue; others who have shown mastery of the subject of finance will be sent out to combat Mr. Bryan's plan of guaranteeing national bank deposits, and so on down the list. It isn't proposed to waste any oratorical material no more than it is proposed to waste money.

No Guess Methods.

The methods of the campaign literary bureaus also are being revolutionized, and no literature will be sent out simply for the sake of sending it. Each article will be prepared with a specific purpose in view and sent where it will do the most good.

The personality of the men at the head of the literary bureaus is a guarantee of efficiency. Henry Watterson will see that the Democratic contentions are presented in attractive form, and in "Dick" Culahan, the Republican management has one of the most brilliant and capable of young American newspaper men. His work at the head of the Washington bureau of the New York Sun proved that he knows "good stuff" and knows how to get it up in a form that will be read.

WILL OPEN JANUARY 1

LARGE FORCE AT WORK ON WOODMEN SANITARIUM.

First Tent Colony Now Under Way. Head Officers Will Be Here September 8.

By the first of January the Modern Woodmen sanitarium five miles north of this city will open to receive its first patients. This was the announcement made yesterday by E. E. Murphy, one of the members of the board of directors of the order and treasurer of the sanitarium fund. Mr. Murphy has just returned from the east where he has been to attend to business of the order. He will remain in Colorado Springs in the interests of the sanitarium until September 11.

Work on the first tent colony has already been started and will be pushed as rapidly as possible. A temporary dining room will also be erected at once and the central buildings and additional tent colonies will be constructed next year. The first tent colony will have a capacity of 60 patients. About 50 men are now at work on the grounds, and much is being done in the laying out of roads and the general improvement of the tract.

Other Officers Coming.

Mr. Murphy announced last night that Head Consul A. R. Talbot, Head Clerk H. C. Hawes, the members of the board of directors and F. O. Van Gaider, editor of "The Modern Woodman," are coming to Colorado Springs on September 8 to inspect the sanitarium, note the progress and take action on certain matters affecting the plans and work that is to be done. They will remain several days and may camp out on the tract during their visit here.

As soon as Head Consul Talbot returns to Lincoln from his vacation, he will issue a second appeal to all camps which did not make their 10 cents per capita contribution to the fund as a result of the first call. Thus far, the total amount subscribed is $59,000, and more than $40,000 additional will be secured if the remaining camps respond to the appeal.

INCORPORATE NEW POWER CO.

Principal Operations Will Be in Wyoming and El Paso and Teller Counties.

F. M. McMahon, R. L. Holland and George A. Taff, all of this city, yesterday filed with the county clerk a copy of the articles of incorporation of the Citizens Water and Power company of Wyoming. The capitalization is $1,000,000, divided into 10,000 shares of a par value of $100 each and the life of the company is 50 years. In addition to the incorporators, the directorate is composed of George Bullock of New York and R. S. Ellison of Colorado Springs. The principal operations will be in Wyoming and in El Paso and Teller counties, this state.

Bullock is president of the large holding company of New York, which controls light and power companies in several cities in the United States, including the Colorado Springs Electric, Colorado Springs Light and Power, and the Pikes Peak Hydro-Electric companies, all of this city.

The plans of the company are not known, officers of the organization saying that they will depend on reports of several civil engineers in its service.

LLOYD SELLS TO E. S. NOBLE

Disposes of Confectionery and Ice Cream Business and May Go to Florida.

W. A. Lloyd has sold his confectionery and ice cream business at 131 North Tejon street to E. S. Noble, formerly of Montgomery, Ala., and a resident of this city for several years. Mr. Noble has already taken possession and announces that he will maintain the same standard of excellence that has always characterized this establishment. He will retain the expert candy and ice cream makers now employed. It is further announced by Mr. Noble that the store will remain open on Sundays.

While Mr. Lloyd has as yet made no definite announcement as to his future plans, it is understood that the sale of his business is preliminary to his removal to Jacksonville, Fla. Mr. Lloyd has had under consideration for several weeks an offer from the directors of the Y. M. C. A. at Jacksonville, but he has not as yet given them an answer.

BRINKER DIES OF INJURIES

Did Not Regain Consciousness After Accident at Ouray.

Albert Brinker, a cousin of W. O. Brinker of this city and of Harold Brinker, the auto racer, died Tuesday as the result of the injuries he received Sunday in the cyanide plant at the Camp Bird mine in Ouray. Brinker had just begun his career as a mining engineer and was making his initial tests in the cyanide plant when his clothing became caught in the set screw of a shaft and he was hurled around several times until the machinery was stopped and he was taken away unconscious. Both his legs were broken and internal injuries were sustained. He never regained consciousness.

The death of the young man is particularly sad in view of the fact that he had been married only about four months, his marriage to Miss Patience Conrad of Denver having taken place last April. The wedding was kept a secret until after Brinker's graduation from the School of Mines in June. He is the son of Arthur Brinker, junior member of the Humphrey-Brinker Mercantile company of Denver and a brother of the superintendent of the Camp Bird mine. The funeral will be held in Denver.

TRAIN BREAKS RECORD

SPECIAL LOWERS TIME FROM DENVER TO PUEBLO.

Makes Run in Two Hours, Forty-one Minutes.—Engineer Dunne at the Throttle.

Breaking the record between Denver and Pueblo the Colorado and Southern Knight Templar special yesterday morning covered the 113 miles between the two cities in 2 hours and 49 minutes, actual running time. The train, made up of 10 cars and pulled by engine No. 324, left Denver at 8:15 o'clock yesterday morning and reached this city at 10 01 o'clock, leaving five minutes later and reaching Pueblo at 10.56 o'clock. At Colorado Springs two cars were added, making the total number on the train 12. Only two stops were made between Denver and Pueblo, one of 7 minutes at Palmer Lake and the other of 5 minutes at this city. The special had the right of way over all other trains. It was out for the record and it made it. The average was 45 miles an hour and was especially good considering the fact that the first 32 miles, to Palmer Lake, is on a grade of nearly two per cent. At times the speed of the train was 70 miles an hour.

Also Holds Reverse Record.

Engineer Harry J. Dunne was at the throttle. He is the man who made the record of 2 hours, 31 minutes, with the Business Men's special from Pueblo to Denver a few years ago, and in addition he holds the record in the point of bringing his trains in on time during the last year only two delays being charged against him. He is one of the most reliable men on the road, and his achievement yesterday is one at which he has been aiming for a long time.

The train carried 438 Templars from Denver and received 86 more from Pikes Peak commandery No. 10 in this city. The train was under the personal direction of G. H. Logan, commercial agent for the C. and S. in this city. Conductor Patterson was in charge.

The Colorado Midland band will go to Pueblo early this morning to participate in the parade, returning in time for the band concert at Stratton park this evening.

A special leaving Pueblo at 10 o'clock tonight, will bring the Colorado Springs, Denver and northern Colorado Templars home.

NEW Y. W. C. A. SECRETARY

Miss Dice of Crawfordsville, Ind., Chosen.—Downtown Rest Room for Women.

At the monthly meeting of the board of managers of the Young Women's Christian association, held yesterday morning at the home, 327 North Weber street, announcement was made that Miss Dice, a prominent Y. W. C. A. worker from the east, will arrive on September 3 to assume the position of general secretary of the local organization. She will open offices in the Hagerman building. Miss Dice comes from Crawfordsville, Ind. She was graduated from a woman's college in Baltimore, afterwards teaching for two years in the high school there. Her Y. W. C. A. training was acquired in a branch secretaryship in New Jersey.

As soon as a suitable place can be secured it is the intention of the managers to establish a Y. W. C. A. rest room down town where women can obtain a light noonday lunch and have a comfortable place to rest. The gymnasium classes, conducted successfully last year at the High School, will be resumed this fall.

Feast of San Geronimo to Be Celebrated at Taos, N. M., on September 20

Just across the Colorado-New Mexico line, but little over 300 miles from Denver, and reached from Servilleta, a station on the Santa Fe branch of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad, is the ancient Indian village, Pueblo de Taos.

There are two great pyramid houses, one five and the other seven stories high, occupied by the entire tribe, numbering more than 400 souls. These two pueblo structures are considered the most perfect examples of early Indian architecture. Although known to have been occupied continuously for more than 500 years, they show not the slightest decay but, on the contrary, are in a perfect state of preservation.

The Indians, who have lived here for generations, are simple, quiet and peaceable, and in a small way tillers of the soil. Like all aborigines, they are superstitious, believing in all kinds of signs and workings of supernatural powers.

Although the Indians were taught the Catholic religion by the Spaniards, and now use the Mexican language more freely than their own, the priests, of whom there are several, are all French—and a jolly lot the pare.

Dances constitute an important feature in all of their festival ceremonies, which are really forms of worship or of prayer to the almighty chief.

Of festival days there are many, the most important being the feast of San Geronimo, celebrated on September 30 every year. Utes, Navajos, Apaches and Mexicans from hundreds of miles about assemble at Taos two or three days in advance of the patron saint's festival. In the early morning of this St. Jerome's day a black-robed Indian makes a recitation from the top of one of the pueblo buildings to the assembled multitude below.

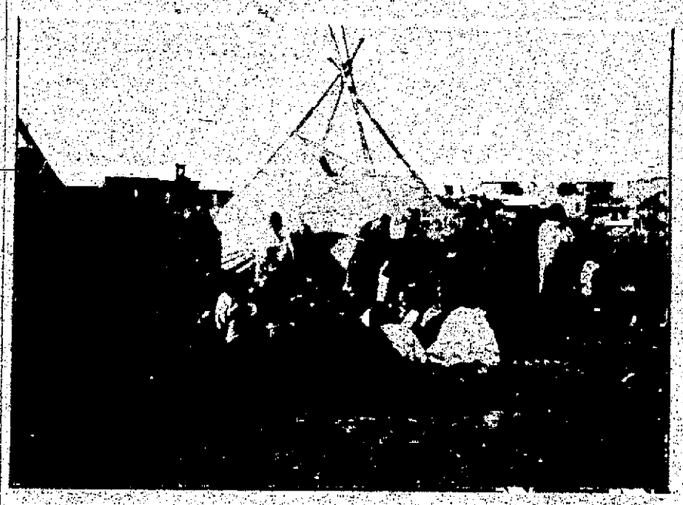

In the plaza stands a pine tree pole, 50 feet in height, and from a crosspiece near the top dangles a live sheep. Beside the sheep, a garland of such fruit and vegetables as the valley produces, together with a basket of bread and grain, hangs from the pole.

The bell in the little adobe chapel sounds and a few of the Indians go in to mass. After the devotional exercises are concluded a procession is formed and marches to the race track, which is a quarter of a mile in length. The runners, of whom there are 50, are naked except for a breech cloth, and are painted no two alike.

Fifty other runners to contest with these arrive from the pueblo across the dividing stream. Two runners from each side dart down the track. No sooner do they reach the goal than two others start off, and thus for two hours the races continue in relays of twos. The victorious side is given the privilege of electing the governor for both pueblos for the ensuing year.

In the afternoon dances by hideously painted clowns and mirthmakers are followed by attempts to climb the pole, which is at last accomplished, and amid the yells of the onlookers the sheep, fruit and grain are thrown to the ground and carried off, and St. Jerome is supposed to rejoice in the happy conclusion of the festival in his honor.

The Indian maiden is not prone to rush into beauty contests. Occasionally, however, a real beauty is found among the Taos women. It is well known that all savages are averse to having their pictures taken, but quite recently a strolling photographer wandering about the village, unobserved and unsuspected, "snapped" the belle of the pueblo just as she was descending the perpendicular stairway from an upper tier of the wonderfully constructed pyramid house. The training of Delsarte could not equal the unconscious grace and ease of poise shown in the free and untrammeled figure descending the stairway. Fortunate it was for Mr. Photographer that the beauty and her friends were ignorant of his diabolical act.

HOLDING A POWWOW.

Two and a half miles away is Fernandez de Taos, a large Mexican town, quaintly built around a large plaza. Few Americans are there now, but many an illustrious pioneer has called Taos his home. Colonel Kit Carson lived and is buried there. Governor Charles Dent was assassinated there February 17, 1847, during the Pueblo insurrection. Colonel Ceran St. Vrain, Judge Beaubien and many others lived there at one time or another. The first newspaper west of the Missouri river was published at Taos, in 1837.

This interesting and historic section has lost not one bit of its oldness. At all times can be found there a colony of artists and writers, for nowhere else in all America can such rich, picturesque native material be found. Frank P. Sauerwen and Bert Greer Phillips have studios there, while Frederic Remington, E. L. Blumenschein and E. S. Curtis, the protegrapher of Indians periodically visit that locality for new subjects.

What the Press Agents Say

"Down on the Farm," a song sketch, with a picturesque locale, and sung by the farmer and his chorus of eight pretty helpers, is the headliner of the new acts which come to the Opera House this afternoon. Rose and Stringer give two negro songs, introducing some novel effects, and the famous Dutch comedian, Joe Weber, is imitated by a well known artist in "Sidewalk Conversation." This last act introduces the song hit of several seasons ago, "Down Where the Wurtzburger Flows," of which the two characters sing a new version.

The balance of the bill is made up of the best acts on last night's program including the artistic success, "Glowworms," which has been accorded unanimous praise for its uniqueness as well as its pleasing qualities. Other acts will be "The Armorer's Song," from "Robin Hood," William R. Healy and his two songs, and the usual illustrated song.

Manager Nye was in Denver yesterday arranging for some new Cameraphone acts for this city. At an early date the big scenic production on the Cameraphone of "Quo Vadis" will be seen here. This is the most pretentious record the company has yet put out, and it has created a veritable sensation wherever it has been seen. Other new acts to be seen here in the future will include a scene from David Warfield's greatest success, "The Music Master," the Tway quartet, and other high class vaudeville acts. Manager Nye has been assured of acts of the same high character that have distinguished his shows from the ordinary vaudeville and picture shows, now running here.

MELON DAY AT ZOO.

Are you going?

Where?

To the Zoo, of course. Is there anything unusual? Well, I should say there is. Sunday is going to be melon day. If your long suit is watermelons, then be sure and don't fail to attend the Zoo next Sunday. For once you will have all the melon you can eat.

This evening there will be a grand masquerade roller skating carnival at the Zoo. Prizes will be given for the most graceful lady and gentleman skaters.

"MR. FUZZ" AT FAIRYLAND.

For this afternoon and evening, Manager Braden presents the beautiful hand-colored film, "Mr Fuzz." This is the latest of the Pathe films and is 1,000 feet long. In this pretty fairy tale we see little Mr. Fuzz shortly after he has opened his eyes for the first time on the light of this world. He is a queer little creature and does not present a very attractive appearance as he is carried around in the arms of his nurse. In the next picture he has attained the age of 16, and he is bewailing his fate and feeling humiliated at his ugliness, when all at once the good queen appears to him and shows him in a vision a beautiful princess, telling him that if he succeeds in winning her love he will be transformed into a dashing young man. The next scene is in the castle, where we see the beautiful princess, who is the laughing stock of the court for her dullness and stupidity. The fairy queen appears to her with good news. It is impossible to describe here the many beautiful and interesting scenes in the fairy story. This is one that will be a treat for the children. Don't fail to see it. "The Viking's Daughter" is another splendid drama picture. It is a story of the ancient Norsemen. "The Female Politician" is a comedy picture of great merit, mirth-provoking from start to finish. Mr Jack Begley sings the beautiful song, "Blue Eyes."

Owing to the steadily increasing attendance at this popular amusement parlor Manager Braden has just installed fifty more new seats. It is always cool and comfortable at Fairyland and the pictures are the best procurable. Doors open from 1 to 11 p. m.

JOSEPH NEWMAN COMPANY.

Variety, snap, newness and brightness are among the prime ingredients of a Joseph Newman program. Whenever the company is announced to appear the people expect something good, something refreshing and they are seldom, if ever, disappointed. Mr. Newman will be at the Manitou High School auditorium, Saturday, August 29, and the music lovers and fun-lovers will be on hand to welcome him and his organization of clever entertainers. Mr. Newman has been aptly called a worry-killer and an apostle of mirth, for with simple jest, gentle and tender pathos and sympathy he plays lightly and sweetly on our heart strings. His company this season is new—Miss Ruth Skeel is a young contralto, whose voice is sweet, smooth, rich and full. Miss Ruby Thorpe is one of the best lady violinists in the west, whose selections will be unusually well chosen. Miss Clara Skeel is a very versatile and talented musician—a most excellent and capital actress, too. "A Dentist for a Day," by Frank Lindo and "Mary's Merry Christmas," by Mr Newman, are one-act comedies entirely new. They are brightly and smartly written, full of fun and good-natured foolery, and yet quite dainty and refined. Reserved seats may be secured at Lennon's drug store, Manitou.

PANTOMIME FOR BENEFIT OF PROTESTANT HOSPITAL

"The Mistletoe Bough," a beautiful pantomime arranged from the famous ballad by Henry E. Bishop, will be given at the Temple this evening, for the benefit of the Protestant hospital fund. The pantomime, which is under the auspices of the Church of the Good Shepherd of Colorado City, was recently given at Colorado City, where it scored a great success. The same cast that presented the pantomime at Colorado City will be in the production at the Temple theater tonight. A synopsis of the cast and the plot follows.

Ladies and gentlemen for court scene, Lord Lovell and bride, Baron, Baroness, Soubrette, Old Housekeeper, Butler, Pages, Bridesmaids, Groomsmen, Peasants and Maypole Children.

The gay peasant dancers holly branch and banquet table, suggest the Christmas holiday with young Lovell's bride the central figure.

As Mrs McElroy sings "The Mistletoe Bough," the young players impersonate the various characters in dumb show.

The entire plot is cleverly noted from the time the curtain rises on the first scene until it descends on the last act wherein the hiding place of young Lovell's bride has been disclosed and where she, in a playful mood, left the stately minuet, having become weary of dancing, and fleeing from the assembled guests found a secret hiding place in an old chest that had for years stood unopened in an old lumber room. Fifty years later they raise the lid to find the skeleton form of the youthful maid in her bridal wreath, mouldering in a living tomb.

The role of Lovell's bride is exceedingly well done by Miss Stella Jones, while the entire cast give an exceptionally strong performance. Tickets are on sale with the Hext Music company. Admission 25 and 35 cents.

EMPIRE THEATER

There hasn't been a vaudeville bill in this city for some time that has made more of a hit than the one now running at the Empire. The Rialta quartet is one of vaudeville's most attractive offerings, and is making a profound impression upon Colorado Springs theatergoers—many people coming a second and even third time to hear the remarkable voices of these young men.

Blondie Robinson, the man with the funny legs, continues to delight the Empire patrons with his unique dancing and mimicry. The Bellefontes, hand balancers, are intensely interesting in their phenomenal balancing turn, and Miss Barackman pleasing in the song "Merry Mary, Marry Me," with pictures.

Friday afternoon at the souvenir matinee all ladies will be presented with a handsome leather pocketbook, photographically decorated with views of Colorado Springs and Cheyenne, a beautiful souvenir, not only for the tourist ladies but for all residents of the Pikes Peak region.

NEWS OF THE LOCAL COURTS

G. B. Johnson, a Short Line fireman, reported to Chief of Police W. S. Reynolds that he was held up near the Denver & Rio Grande tracks, on Moreno avenue, about 1 o'clock yesterday morning. The would-be robber, he said, believed his statement that he had only 30 cents, and went away missing $65 which the fireman is said to have had in his inside vest pocket. Chief Reynolds arrested 15 vagrants as a result of Johnson's story, and the prisoners were convicted and put to work cutting weeds.

In the case of C. S. Coray charged with assault with a deadly weapon by W. D. Asher, a change of venue was taken by the defendant yesterday from Justice Dunnington's court to that of Justice Ruby.

Judge J. W. Sheafor will set the criminal docket of the district court on September 1.

The police yesterday recovered the third of the three automobiles which were mysteriously stolen late Tuesday night. The car found yesterday, a Wayne auto belonging to T. C. Kirkwood, Jr., had been left standing near Colorado avenue, on the west side. No trace of the offenders has been secured.

On request of Chairman John Hill of the street committee, and also at the instance of the health department, Chief of Police Reynolds has put the usual rock pile gang to work cutting weeds.

Alleging cruelty and habitual drunkenness, Roberta A. Conroy filed suit in the county court yesterday for divorce from James Conroy. The couple were married in California, June 12, 1899.

MEN PAST SIXTY IN DANGER

More than half of mankind over sixty years of age suffer from kidney and bladder disorders, usually enlargement of prostate glands. This is both painful and dangerous, and Foley's Kidney Cure should be taken at the first sign of danger, as it corrects irregularities and has cured many old men of this disease. Mr Rodney Burnett, Rockport, Mo. writes: "I suffered with enlarged prostate gland and kidney trouble for years and after taking two bottles of Foley's Kidney Cure I feel better than I have for twenty years, although I am now 91 years old." For sale by all dealers.

STARTS SOMETHING.

The bride of young Mr. Potter Palmer is first to wear a diamond tiara fastening the bridal veil. It is an innovation. Other girls who have been given diamond tiaras have stuck to coronets of orange blossoms on their wedding day, but it has remained for Chicago to yield to temptation. It was the gift of Mrs Palmer, mother of the bridegroom, and Miss Kohlsaat could not resist, and really there's no reason why she should. If you have a diamond tiara for gracious sake wear it.

SILVER TIP SHIPS 15 CARS MONTHLY

LESSEES HAVE OPENED VALUABLE SHOOT.

Several Other Properties Near by Are Producing High Grade of Ore.

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Aug. 26.—Fifteen cars per month are being loaded out from the Silver Tip property, under lease to Whitfield and Sherman. The lessees have developed one of the most profitable leases in the district and expect to increase the tonnage within a short time. A big shoot opened up on three levels is being broken from eight to 10 feet wide and assays from $18 to $30 to the ton all the way across. The ore is of a very uniform grade and is shipped with a small amount of sorting. The mineral is being hoisted from the 100, 150 and 200-foot levels. The Silver Tip is one of a group of properties owned by the United Gold Mines company located on the northwest slope of Bull hill, all of which are under lease and shipping a good grade of ore.

There are a number of properties in the same section producing the same grade of ore, principal among which are the War Eagles, under lease to J. O. A. Carper of Denver; the Ramona of the Reed Investment company, worked by Hemby and Anderson, who are shipping the entire product to the Wild Horse mill on the adjoining property, and the Midway, from which the Stafford Brothers are shipping two-ounce ore.

Kern and Rankin, operating through the Good Will tunnel on the Progress on the west slope of Gold hill, are now engaged in constructing ore bins at the portal of the tunnel. A good shoot of ore has been opened up in an upraise from the tunnel level, which cuts the property at a depth of 500 feet, carrying values of an ounce and a half to the ton. A shipment is now in preparation and will be shipped to one of the valley mills as soon as the bins are constructed.

SEVERAL PROPERTIES LOCATE GOOD ORE

MOON ANCHOR BEING DEVELOPED AT 900 FEET.

Elkton Reopens After Being Closed for Retimbering—New Shaft on Hiawatha.

Special to The Gazette.

CRIPPLE CREEK, Aug. 26.—The newly incorporated Moon Anchor-Conundrum Consolidated Leasing company is making a good output of ore ranging in value from $25 to $30 to the ton. Three machines are now at work breaking ore and a number are being used in development work. On the 900-foot level of the Moon Anchor a crosscut is being driven and will be carried through to the Conundrum property adjoining.

At the bottom of the shaft on the latter property assays taken show the ore to run as high as three ounces to the ton and the company is contemplating sinking the shaft another 100 feet. A large part of the property has never been explored on account of the bad air conditions existing in the lower levels. It has been necessary in the past to use steam jets to operate below the 500-foot level, but the air connection to be made with the Moon Anchor is expected to relieve this to some extent. All hoisting will be done through the Moon Anchor shaft.

The Elkton Consolidated Gold Mining company has resumed operations after being closed down for a short time in order to retimber a portion of the shaft. The full force has been put to work and the company will start breaking the usual tonnage which amounts to about 50 tons per day of a $30 grade. Operations are being conducted on practically all levels from the surface to the 900-foot level, where several veins are opened up.

Dick Blanchard, the well-known leaser, is now engaged in sinking a new shaft on the Hiawatha property on Beacon hill on which he has been leasing for some time past. Several shipments were made of low grade ore which netted the lessee a handsome profit as the ore was handled cheaply and required a small amount of sorting. The new shaft will exploit one of the ore bodies which has produced heavily from the upper levels and will also open up new territory.

TEN YEARS IN BED

DULLEST OF YEAR ON WALL STREET

STAGNATION MARKS DEALINGS IN STOCKS.

Investors Manifest Extreme Caution and Outlook Is Not Promising.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—Disappointment was the portion of those who thought today's stock market would show some further reflection of the early week's turbulence. As a matter of fact, the day's business was almost the dullest for some weeks, nearly the smallest of any full day this year. The trading the first hour was under 63,000 shares and the following hour less than 33,000 shares changed hands, while throughout the afternoon session there were frequent periods of complete stagnation. The suspension of A. O. Brown and company is still shrouded in considerable mystery, but the stock exchange authorities are earnest in their promise to sift the matter to the bottom. Some uneasiness was felt at the outset of today's operations, but reassuring advices from official sources soon imparted a firm tone to the list. The speculative faction is disinclined for a variety of reasons to make fresh ventures just now, and this attitude is quite certain to be maintained until a better understanding of recent events has been reached.

Extreme caution is being manifested by investors, and it is conceded that no business need be expected from that element for some time to come. The greater ease of money will be a favorable factor in straightening out any trouble that may have resulted from the recent spectacular market operations. A point tending to prove the inherent strength of underlying conditions is found in the fact that, while the past fortnight has been one of the most memorable in the history of the local stock exchange, the average prices of the 20 leading railway issues show practically no change.

The afternoon session brought little or no change, but under the lead of Southern Pacific which reached a new high level at 101½, the entire list hardened and closed strong. Americans held firm in London, where there was evidence of bear operations for New York account. Cables from Berlin reported the prospective shipment of $4,800,000 Australian gold to the German capital. The day's grist of general news was discouraging for the most part, with further conflicting reports as to the state of trade. In the industrial lines it appears that another lull has occurred in the demand for iron and steel, though several large orders are said to be in process of negotiation. Inquiry for copper metal is slight, and a break in tin was reported from London. The Rock Island-Frisco system made its report for the fiscal year. Rock Island's gross earnings fell off $1,654,000, with a decrease in net of $3,284,000, due to a heavy increase in operating expenses and taxes. St. Louis & San Francisco shows a loss of over $3,0000,000 in gross and a decrease of $3,128,000 in net. The Boston & Maine report for the year reflects especially heavy losses for the third and last quarters. To add to this unfavorable exhibit, the business of the road shows no improvement for the new year. No change is noted in local monetary conditions. The demand is lighter than at any time this month. Bonds were steady today, the only feature being the sale of a large block of Union Pacific refunding 4s at a figure slightly under the subscription price. Total sales, par value, $3,822,000.

Government bonds were unchanged on call.

HARVEST DELAYS STRENGTHEN WHEAT

BAD WEATHER IN NORTHWEST RESPONSIBLE.

Prospects for Future Are Bullish on Chances of Damage to Crops.

CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—Further delays to harvest operations in the Canadian northwest, due to wet weather, was the chief cause of a strong tone in the local wheat market today. Corn, oats and provisions were firm as a result of the strength of wheat.

Reports of additional rain in the western provinces of Canada greeted traders in the wheat pit and brought out a fairly active demand at the opening, which resulted in initial advances of ⅛@¼ to ⅝ 6¼. The weather map for Minnesota and the Dakotas gave additional stimulus to bullish sentiment, the official forecast being for rain today in those three important spring wheat states. As trading progressed reports began to circulate in the pit which told of a revival in export business both for wheat and flour. Sales of cash wheat here were reported at 150,000 bushels, the bulk of which was for export, and Kansas City reported an equal amount, most of which was for shipment abroad. The total sales, including 14 boatloads of durum at New York, for Mediterranean points were estimated at 412,000 bushels. It is also claimed exporters were liberal purchasers of flour. These advices caused the market to rule firm all day. The close was firm at a trifle below the high point, and at net gains of ⅝@⅞ to ¾, compared with the previous close. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 650,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 719,000, compared with 712,000 a year ago.

An advance of ½c in cash corn, smaller acceptances from the country and the strength of wheat were the chief reasons for a firm market for corn following an easy opening. The close was steady, with prices unchanged to ⅛@⅜ higher, compared with the previous close. Local receipts were 224 cars, with 50 of contract grade.

Oats were strong on buying by cash houses, which was based mainly on continued light acceptances from the country. At the sample tables cash oats were ½ higher. The market closed strong. Final quotations showed net gains of ⅝@¾ for the day. Local receipts were 159 cars.

Additional sales of lard to exporters were chiefly responsible for a strong tone in provisions. The close was firm at net gains of 2½ to 10c.

DOES THE SKY-SCRAPER PAY?

In a record which has just been compiled for the Metropolitan Life Insurance company, it is shown that since the plans for their tallest building in the world were filed, there has been delivered to the company 8,746 newspaper clippings, which were gathered from all parts of the world.

Frank A. Burrelle, of New York, the expert in his line, estimates that the clippings, varying from page illustrations to a stickful, average 12 inches in length, equaling 104,952 inches, or 1,469,328 agate lines.

To buy this amount of space in the papers that carried the stories, for most of them were high class, would have cost $440,798.40.

Many more stories will, of course, be printed, for the notable structure will attract newspaper attention for many years to come.

The gathering of what is printed concerning the new Equitable building is being carried on, and already the company has received more than 3,000 clippings.

CLAIRVOYANTS.

DON'T BE DECEIVED

ALABABA IS THE ONLY REAL HINDOO IN YOUR CITY TODAY.

Your True Life Story

Told by the World's Greatest Somnolist, Clairvoyant, Hindoo Mystic.

ALABABA

This remarkable man is a natural born clairvoyant; he makes no charge unless he calls you by name. Positive satisfaction guaranteed.

126 E. KIOWA.

Hours, 9 a. m. to 9 p. m., Daily and Sunday.

The one you have been waiting for. Try just once more if you have been imposed upon by imposters. Hundreds in other cities were amazed, mystified and satisfied, and so you'll be. He has the power of any other 10 Clairvoyants, Palmists and Mediums combined—the missing link in the chain that connects you with the unforeseen world and this—he sees your life as the dead alone can see it and reveals to you your past as you alone know it—your present as it is and your future exactly as it will be. There is no guess work about it—his advice is reliable and can be depended upon—no one need be ashamed to consult him, as everything is sacredly confidential.

Mrs. Sampson, noted psychic, can give you fresh messages from the dear ones beyond, proving that life immortal is not far away. The windows are all open for the truths that ever were.
